CHOICE PLANTS FOR 1941

HARDY ASTERS

BLUE CLOUD. NEW. A SPLENDID NOVELTY.

A new, very late blooming Michaelmas Daisy. Three feet high rounded bushes of soft lavender-blue single flowers. This aster comes into bloom in October and is at its best by November 1, its clouds of blue flowers contrasting beautifully with the yellow and bronze of chrysanthemums. Absolutely hardy and not troubled by insects or disease, it will provide blue flowers well into late fall.

$1.50 for three plants;

$4.50 for ten plants

Frikarti or Wonder of Staffa. The ever blooming aster. Many people consider this the most beautiful hardy perennial introduced in late years. Three feet high. Blue flowers from July to the end of autumn.

$1.25 for three plants;

$3.50 for ten plants.

WARTBURG STAR. The June blooming aster. One foot high. Large blue daisies on long stems.

$1.00 for three plants;

$3.00 for ten plants.

CLIMAX. Three feet high. Quantities of blue flowers throughout September.

$.75 for three plants;

$2.00 for ten plants.

MARJORY. Dwarf Michaelmas Daisy. One foot high. Smothered with rose colored flowers in September.

$.75 for three plants;

$2.00 for ten plants.

HEUCHERA

(Coral Bells)

Easy to grow and delightful for cut flowers. In bloom from the middle of May until August, and again in autumn.

ROSAMUNDI. Coral pink flowers on two foot stems.

PLUI DE FEU. Bright coral red. Eighteen inches.

$1.00 for three plants;

$3.00 for ten plants.

HEMEROCALLIS

(Day lily)

Sure to grow under any conditions. Dependable, beautiful and hardy. No insects nor disease bother them. Lovely in the garden and as cut flowers.

May-June bloom

GOLD DUST. Two feet high. Golden flowers.

SOVEREIGN. Eighteen inches. Pale yellow, brown on reverse of petal

June-July bloom

FLORHAM. Three feet. Rich golden yellow. One of the best.

July-August bloom

CINNABAR. Two to three feet. Gold overlaid with brown. Distinctive.

LEMONA. Four feet. Pale yellow. Large, waxy flower.

Mrs. W. H. WYMAN. Four feet. Golden yellow. Long blooming season.

CITRINA. Five feet. Pale yellow, medium sized flowers, very sweetly scented.

All day lilies
